Real Madrid and Barcelona are about to schedule a pre-season El Clasico which will be hosted in Las Vegas' Allegiant Stadium, according to a report published on MARCA. The two sides were going to play in that venue in the summer of 2020 but the Coronavirus pandemic forced to cancel the event.

The initial idea, per that same report on MARCA, would be to host a tournament with Juventus and Milan. If the report is accurate, all four teams would travel away from their respective countries for the first time since the pandemic started in early 2020.

Apparently, Real Madrid would also play two games in Los Angeles and San Diego, although the details of all three games still have to be finalized and nothing is official yet.

The 2022 pre-season will be an important moment for every club in European football, as it will be a very unusual season because of the 2022 FIFA World Cup, which will be played during the winter, forcing clubs and players alike to change their plans in terms of conditioning.

But now, Marca have revealed that Barcelona and Real Madrid would be playing the tournament alongside Juventus and Milan.

This will be the first time all four teams will be playing away from their respective home countries since the pandemic began. The reported friendlies will be part of a new summer tournament branded the ‘Champions Cup’.

The report goes on to state that Real Madrid will also play two games in Los Angeles and San Diego, however, details of all three games still need to be finalised.

This is the second time in five years an El Clasico will be held in the United States, with one of the games to be held at the Hard Rock Stadium in Miami.

Barcelona beat Los Blancos 0-4 last week at the Santiago Bernabeu with goals from Ferran Torres, Ronald Araujo, and a brace from Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang.

Real Madrid legend Guti slammed Carlo Ancelotti for his side’s display on Sunday.

“I’m Ancelotti and I look at the bench and I have Hazard, Jovic, [Gareth] Bale, Isco... And you’re telling me that I can’t sub any of them in?” he said on El Chiringuito.

“What’s going on? I am getting lost.

“I watch the game against Barcelona and I see the Real Madrid bench and I find that in the second half the first change from Madrid is Mariano... How can this be?

“Aren’t Bale and Hazard there? Madrid’s first offensive change Mariano, who hasn’t played this year?”

Despite their El Clasico defeat, Real Madrid are still holding on to their lead at the top of the La Liga table. They hold a nine-point lead over second-placed Sevilla, while Barcelona are third, with a game in hand.
